

Carlson Filtration Distributors' Sales Bulletin

2015 Heralds Further Investment At Barnoldswick

2014 has been another good year in revenue terms for Carlson Filtration.

The new grades of carbon impregnated media in both sheet and lenticular form have been well accepted in the market place and new applications continue to be found. The cost effective CarboPlus dual layer modules are beginning to establish a place where extended life and/or increased flow rates are considered important.

We are well aware, however, that during 2014 product availability lead times have not been acceptable to some of our customers.

The significant investments which Carlson has made in the production area especially the stock preparation system, new head box and wet end vacuum systems which, whilst bringing individual improvements, naturally take time to commission and "gel". However, the light at the end of the tunnel is getting ever closer and to increase the "illumination" and shorten the tunnel, we have recruited new personnel to head the Production and Finishing Departments.

Brian Dewar who has 23 years of experience in the paper industry joined the company on December 1st as Production and Warehouse Manager and John Driver (husband of Sandra, our General Sales Manager) has re-joined the company as Finishing Manager.

An integral part of their task is to bring lead times down to more acceptable levels in addition to their key focus of continuing to improve product performance and consistency.

Brian Dewar — Production and Warehouse Manager

John Driver — Finishing Manager

Investment will continue throughout 2015 with improved online measurement and the dryer being the main focus of attention.
